Why UK Homes Need an Air Purifier

Most UK residents think pollution is an “outdoor problem,” but research shows indoor air can be up to 5 times more polluted than outdoor air. This happens because:

- Homes are sealed for warmth, trapping pollutants inside.
- Pollen and dust easily enter through windows and clothes.
- Damp weather encourages mould growth in walls and ceilings.
- Cleaning sprays and paints release VOCs (volatile organic compounds).

- Cooking and smoking generate harmful fine particles.

These pollutants worsen asthma, hay fever, allergies, and respiratory conditions – making devices like the Clairu Air Purifier extremely useful.
